Idea – organic clothing manufacturer: use our seed paper custom hangtags in place of your regular hangtags. Each buyer gets your world famous apparel and a hangtag containing company details that can be planted and bloom into flowers or herbs. A great, twist on standard printed hangtags and a unique method of promoting ones' brand.

Ideas that can help you increase business using targeted and effective promotional products. With a vast array of ways promotional products can be used to boost your sales and increase traffic to your business and now is the ideal time to use them. Our products and solutions are much better suited to your budget and last longer than traditional advertising vehicles such as print and electronic media (radio/tv/internet). We can help make your product or service come alive and get delivered directly to your customer. Our products can match a particular theme/event/color or be custom designed to suit your needs. Traditional media may or may not be seen or heard and your dollars may never get used to its real potential. While no one can guarantee you 100% success in marketing, we can guarantee you that your name will not be thrown in the recycling bin. Your name, brand and image will remain with your customer for days, weeks, perhaps even months.

We have ideas and solutions to help your business bloom in tough times!
